

Question for written answer E-015172/2015
to the Commission

Rule 130

Mairead McGuinness (PPE)

Subject: Housing supply in the EU

Homelessness is a major issue in the EU, and Member States are attempting to tackle the problem. Can the Commission clarify its role and strategy in tackling this issue?

A recent report by the Fondation Abbé Pierre and FEANTSA indicates that the problem is increasing as house prices rise more rapidly than incomes.

Does the Commission intend to alleviate the situation through the use of structural and investment funds?