Subject: Steel tariffs

There is increasing concern within my constituency for the future of the U.K. steel industry. There are severe concerns that European steel is being undermined and undercut by imports from non-EU countries. With this in mind, I would like to ask the Commission what the tariffs currently are on steel imported from non-EU countries?

Furthermore, is there an anti-dumping tariff in place on imported steel, and if not is one being considered by the Commission?
