

Question for written answer E-015268/2015
to the Commission
Rule 130
Alberto Cirio (PPE)

Subject: Rice imports

On several occasions in the past, I have asked the Commission about the impact that duty-free imports of rice from Cambodia could be having on European rice production.

To date, more than a year after my last question regarding this matter, have there been any significant developments on the market and regarding European production?