Subject: An unprecedented migration crisis - social order in the EU at stake

The influx of hundreds of thousands of migrants arriving in the European Union every day via the Balkans is seriously threatening social order in Europe.

Slovenia's Prime Minister Mr Cerar said recently: 'If we do not deliver some immediate and concrete actions [...] in the next few days and weeks, I believe the EU and Europe as a whole will start falling apart.'

The migrant reception system in Slovenia and Croatia is indeed on the point of collapse and even in Germany the situation is out of control. The German Chief of Police Mr Wendt, in an interview on the German TV channel N24, reported high crime levels among refugees: theft, rape and criminal assault. Mr Wendt has warned furthermore that migrants that have arrived in Germany do not obey German laws as they only recognise sharia law.

With reference to this extremely serious situation:

- What urgent measures does the Commission intend to take to ensure migrants taken in by Member States respect European values and the social order?
- What measures will it take, as a matter of priority, to review the management of migration flows in the EU?
